You may not be called to pastor a whole congregation, but you have a passion for kids ministry, missions, or another part of the body of Christ. Southeastern's Ministerial Leadership degree program is designed to prepare students to serve in leadership and support roles at churches and other faith-based organizations. In the Ministerial Leadership major, you'll develop a solid foundation in all areas of ministry, including biblical interpretation, counseling, and preaching. All students who complete this program will also satisfy the educational requirements for credentialing within the Assemblies of God. Our faculty has decades of practical ministry experience and are committed to sharing their knowledge and passion for ministry with you and your classmates.
